

Originally from Kenya, Sabina Wasonga-Gitau is an educator of elementary school aged children and a storyteller. In storytelling sessions with children, she passes on Kenyan cultural traditions and introduces Swahili language through song, dance and stories. She has taught Swahili at after school programs and done Swahili story time at a public Library in New Jersey.